

Energy Conference

REGISTRATION FORM

The Jamaica Institution of Engineers in association with
Academia and Industry Energy Conference 2011

Developing A Sustainable Energy Future

Countries and individuals, especially in small emerging states, continue to be burdened with the increasing cost of energy produced from conventional sources that is used to promote individual, commercial or industrial means.

Therefore, in order to develop a sustainable energy future, to ensure a more environmentally friendly society, while promoting productivity, a wider look at the entire energy spectrum needs to be explored.
